PERFORMANCE TRANSFORMANCE: REDISCOVERING HUMANITY IN A DIGITAL WORLD

Join Richard Mover, an accomplished Actor, Director, Playwright, Producer, and Performance Coach, on a transformative journey into the heart of emotional Intelligence. In an age defined by technological advancements that often alienate and dehumanize us, this speech is a powerful call to reconnect with our fundamental humanity.

As an artist and seasoned performer with over 30 years in the vibrant heart of NYC, Richard brings a unique perspective to this vital topic. He takes us beyond the confines of facts and figures, aiming to create a visceral impact that entertains and inspires. Richard doesn't just state the problem; he embodies it by transforming into characters he's created to personify the issues at hand.

Engagement is at the core of this presentation, with Richard fostering a dynamic and thought-provoking conversation with the audience. He uses provocative and compelling techniques, inviting listeners to reflect on their own lives and values. An engaging rap poem with a call-and-response element ensures active participation, guaranteeing an immersive experience for all.

The ultimate goal of "Performance Transformance" is rediscovering personal humanity. In a world increasingly driven by technology and artificial intelligence, Richard emphasizes the urgent need to refocus on what makes us truly human. By exploring qualities like caring, kindness, empathy, and imagination, attendees will rediscover the power of emotional intelligence as a key to unlocking a deeper connection with themselves and others.

Learner Objectives:

- Discover the significance of Emotional Intelligence in today's digital age.
- Explore unique insights from Richard's experience as a professional theater artist.
- Engage in thought-provoking discussions and self-reflection to reignite core human values.

Richard Mover's North Star is to create a profoundly transformative and synergistic experience for all, inspiring individuals to rediscover their humanity and reshape their interactions in the modern world.

ABOUT RICHARD MOVER

Richard Mover is a multifaceted talent in the heart of NYC, a renowned Actor, Director, Playwright, and a Certified Creative Performance Coach. With his coaching practice, "Performance Transformance," he offers personalized one-on-one and group coaching sessions. Richard's passion for transformation extends to hosting the "Transformational Speakers Gym" and providing training in Emotional Intelligence through his "Emotional Intelligence Toolkit Training."

A distinguished member of the John Maxwell Leadership community, Richard conducts a dynamic twelve-week "Leadershift" Mastermind Group, sharing his insights and expertise in leadership development.

Richard's journey in the American theater scene has been nothing short of remarkable. He's had the privilege of working with luminaries like Jose Quintero, Meryl Streep's acting teacher Nikos Psacharopoulos, and the visionary director Gene Frankel. His extensive repertoire includes acting in and directing numerous new works and revivals, collaborating with prestigious theater companies such as The Drilling Co, The Lab Theatre Co, and The Workshop Theatre.

Richard is also an accomplished playwright, showcasing his creative genius through compelling plays like "Larry's Late Show," "Caseworker," "Miracle on 39th and 9th," and "Main Road." His recent venture, "Lionheart Theatricals," is dedicated to producing impactful theater with a profound social relevance, cementing his role as a trailblazer in the world of performing arts.

"I highly recommend the coaching services of Richard Mover through Performance Transformance. I say coaching rather than communication coaching because he goes beyond developing you as a speaker to developing you as a whole person. Richard is a highly gifted and talented professional with a wealth of experience which he cleverly packages in straightforward communication, humor, and profound quotes to develop individuals. For years, I struggled with the fear of public speaking but through Performance Transformance, I was able to get to the root issues of my fear and breakthrough; along the way I discovered so many more strengths I didn't realize I had! None of this would have been possible without Richard's help. I can sincerely say that when working with him, you'll not regret the time spent investing in yourself. Thank you very much Richard!"
